Master Programme INS – Interdisciplinary Neuroscience

External Modules

External Modules are subject to prior approval by the Examinations Board.

Take care to submit the application early enough to be handled before you want to start the module: in Germany at least 4 weeks, abroad at least 8 weeks.

You have to submit an informal application at the examination office comprising:

- your matriculation number, address and the date of the application
- foreseen period of the module
- address and e-mail-address of your would-be external supervisor
- an exposé of 1 DIN A4 page describing the contents of the module including the techniques you wish to achieve signed by yourself as well as by your would-be supervisor
- an assertion of your would-be-supervisor that the module fulfills the requirements of the INS programme regulations according to the respective place holder module (electives A0, B0, C0 or D0) or to Current Concepts, Methods or the Master's thesis (see Course Manual); he or she may do this in handwriting on a copy of the corresponding page in the Course Manual ("seen and accepted" + signature). (It is necessary that your would-be supervisor is informed about the study achievements and final exams!)
- an assertion that the academical work effected during the module/practical is not remunerated
- an application for an external master thesis also needs the signature of the would-be internal supervisor/reviewer!
